#55 top 200 Golf Courses - Golfweek

While Minnesotans know our state is a top golf destination, many visitors are surprised by the world class caliber of the courses they find in the North Star State.

There's a reason why Minnesota will be the first state to host the Ryder Cup on the same course twice — in 2016 and 2029 — and why we've hosted every major tournament from the U.S. Open to the PGA Championships. Not to mention the new 3M Open, a PGA TOUR event that has been going strong in Blaine since 2019.

Minnesota boasts nearly 450 golf courses — 6,985 holes overall, encompassing 65,400 acres of green space and 4,400 acres of wetlands. Ninety percent of our golf courses are open to the public, too, including 26 resorts and 12 standalone driving ranges.

Minnesota's golf season begins in April and runs all the way into November, spanning some of the best golfing weather found anywhere in the continental U.S. Long summer days leave plenty of time to get in 36 holes and golfers can experience some of the best turf and playing conditions during the season's peak in August and September.

When you pair accessibility with quality (weather and playing conditions) and value, you begin to understand what sets Minnesota apart from other golf destinations. Whether you're an experienced golfer, or one of the many new players who recently discovered the sport, uncovering our golf gems makes for exceptionally rewarding travels and lifelong memories.

While you're here, we invite you to explore all that makes Minnesota a great place to visit, including lots of other things to do besides golf. Fabulous lodging options, from lakeside resorts and campgrounds to downtown hotels to charming bed-and-breakfasts, offer more than just a place to rest your head. Restaurants, breweries, museums, shops, charming downtowns, and plenty of outdoor adventure opportunities will turn your golf vacation into so much more.

Visit exploreminnesota.com to plan your Minnesota golf getaway and share your best shots with the hashtag #OnlyinMN.

FOUR TERRIFIC GOLF TRAILS

With so many sprawling courses in Minnesota, it can be hard to know where to begin planning your next golf getaway. One solution is to hit several top-rated courses in one trip by following a golf trail. Here are four that feature varying degrees of difficulty and a shifting backdrop of scenic byways along the way.

MINNESOTA GOLF TRAIL

This cluster of popular courses is located near the Otter Trail and Lake Country scenic byways. In Battle Lake, Balmoral Golf Course's record is a blistering 64, so have fun trying to card a score that low. Savor the woods and water at Blueberry Pines in Menahga, designed by former PGA Tour player and Minnesota native Joel Goldstrand. Both Longbow and Tianna are neat tracks in Walker, and the 27 holes at Perham Lakeside Golf Club provide a topographic mix that administers every type of golf test.

The Wildflower at Fair Hills Resort in Detroit Lakes is also a Goldstrand creation, with 7,000 yards and robust slope ratings. In Ottertail, Thumper Pond's 18 holes feature more than 30,000 pine trees, and its resort sports a spa and indoor water park.

WILD NORTH GOLF

This trail encompasses eight courses along the 154-mile North Shore Scenic Drive and the Superior National Forest Scenic Byway. The 9-hole at Silver Bay is a popular prelude to Superior National's dramatic 27 holes in Lutsen. Its fully renovated Jeffrey Brauer design was unveiled in 2018 and features white sand, five tee sets, wider fairways and idyllic greens. You may be lucky enough to spot a moose while playing Gunflint Hills, four miles north of the Grand Marais harbor.

Inland from the shore, the Superior Forest byway leads to the towns of Aurora and the 9-hole municipal course at Hoyt Lakes. The next stop is Giants Ridge in Biwabik, home to two of Minnesota's most acclaimed golf courses, The Legend and The Quarry. Municipals in Eveleth and Virginia round out this tour.

MISSISSIPPI BLUFFS

True to its title, this trail rides along the Mississippi River with the river's bluffs on its wing, along the southern stretch of Minnesota's Great River Road. The trail begins with three courses in Hastings, which lies at the confluence of the St. Croix and Mississippi rivers. The Red Wing Golf Club and the two courses at Mississippi National are championship golf options. Just down the shore, Mount Frontenac Golf Course tracks up and down the bluff, where deer are plentiful.

Lake City Golf is the gateway to The Jewel Golf Club, an upscale course designed by three-time U.S. Open winner Hale Irwin. Lake Pepin and Coffee Mill courses are highly elevated, and the two courses in Winona, The Bridges and Cedar Valley, are both peaceful oases in lush valleys worth the trip for golf and an impressive variety of dining options.

WATERS OF THE DANCING SKY

This golf trail follows the scenic byway of the same name just south of the Canadian border from Hallock to Voyageurs National Park. The trail begins with courses at Hallock, Karlstad and Greenbush before the 18-hole Oakcrest Golf Course in Roseau. Warroad Estates is a regulation woodland course popular with Canadian golfers, and its ninth green is the shape of the state of Minnesota. Oak Harbor's vintage front nine is woody, and the back has a Scottish links feel along the Rainy River.

FALL GOLFING IN MINNESOTA IS A HOLE IN ONE

With cooler temperatures, flashy foliage, and less competition for tee times, fall may be the best time of year to hit the green in Minnesota. There are nearly 500 courses spread throughout the state; here's a hit list that'll help narrow down all your options.

TACKLE THE TWIN CITIES

About a quarter of Minnesota's golf courses are in the metro area, which makes it easy to plan a weekend filled with golf during the day and a nice mix of fine dining and cultural destinations at night. Many courses are tucked into suburban wooded enclaves, and a dozen can be found right in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Hiawatha Golf Club is one of the gems of the urban parks system. Located just a few minutes south of downtown Minneapolis, the historic 18-hole course is graced by Lake Hiawatha, several ponds and Minnehaha Creek. It is also next to Lake Nokomis and the Grand Rounds Scenic Byway, a destination for parkway drives and cycling or strolling on trails.

FOLLOW THE MINNESOTA RIVER VALLEY

This series of scenic byway stops boasts stellar courses and trip-extending attractions like historic main streets, brewery and vineyard tours, local art, and lively wildlife. Some of the courses along this trail offer river valley views, such as St. Peter's Shoreland Country Club. It's a short par-69 with seven par-3s. The course at Le Sueur Country Club is also relatively short but makes up for it with pesky hillside lies.

Mankato offers two courses on this trail; North Links has a large driving range and two practice holes. Meanwhile, the Rees Jones-designed Dacotah Ridge Golf Club in Morton blends seamlessly with its rugged prairieland surroundings, and Granite Run in Granite Falls and River Crest Golf Course in Montevideo combine with Appleton and Ortonville courses to round things out along the Minnesota River.

TEE OFF AT THESE SCENIC RESORTS

The 54-mile Paul Bunyan Scenic Byway provides a superb lakeside backdrop for some of the state's best golf. While the 27-hole Pines and The Preserve at Grand View Lodge set a high standard for the Brainerd Golf Trail, the two Robert Trent Jones Jr. designs at Cragun's Resort are equally impressive. As are The Traditional, Whitebirch and Arnold Palmer-designed Deacon's Lodge courses at Breezy Point Resort and Golden Eagle's exquisite setting, which is enhanced by the cozy cabins that keep players on-site.

EXPLORE MINNESOTA'S UNIQUE PRAIRIE LINKS COURSES

Among the many diverse settings Minnesota offers, golfers can opt for tall grass terrain that recalls the first seaside courses developed in Scotland. Wildflower Golf Course in Detroit Lakes is an open links course with rolling prairie lands, oak-lined fairways, and views of Pelican Lake. Fall is a perfect time to experience the expressive pops of red, orange and yellow on this unique course.

FIND SUPERIOR GOLFING UP NORTH

The North Shore offers everything from laid-back 9-hole courses — like the Silver Bay Municipal Golf Course and the Gunflint Hills Golf Course in Grand Marais — to the stunning 27-hole Superior National Golf Club at the base of Lutsen's Moose Mountain. The region also boasts two brilliant courses at Giants Ridge Golf Resort: the Legend and the Quarry, which Golf Digest called "the 16th best public course in the United States." And then there's The Wilderness at Fortune Bay, which Golfweek declared the state's top resort due to its panoramic views and the dazzling course designs of Jeffrey D. Brauer.

GO GOLFING IN SCENIC CENTRAL MINNESOTA

By C.B. Bylander

From small community to large championship courses,
Central Minnesota is the state's golf mecca.

This is especially true in the Brainerd Lakes area. This forest-and-lake-dotted landscape features more than 450 holes and was named one of the world's top 50 destinations by Golf Digest.

This ranking reflects both quantity and quality. Robert Trent Jones Jr., the Arnold Palmer Design Company, and Minnesota's own Joel Goldstrand have all developed courses that rise and roll through the region's picturesque pines, oaks and aspens. Among the area's top draws are The Classic at Madden's Resort, Deacon's Lodge at Breezy Point Resort, the Legacy courses at Cragun's Resort, and the Pines and Preserve courses at Grand View Lodge.

Golf is also great here because the region is rich with nature. It is not uncommon to see bald eagles or hear loon cries while you're on the green. In fact, many courses have gone to great lengths to incorporate nature into their design. Expect holes that flank sprawling wetlands and forests, require shots over water, and take advantage of undulating terrain.

Lodging and dining options are varied and plentiful as well. From campgrounds with grills to motels with restaurants to luxury resorts with fancy brunches, there is something for everyone.

THREE THINGS TO CONSIDER WHEN PLANING A TRIP TO CENTRAL MINNESOTA

1. Value

Green fees range from $95 to $150 at resort courses in the Brainerd area during prime tee times in the summer. Expect to pay $60 to $90 at other top-end courses. Most courses offer substantial discounts later in the day; twilight rates often cut green fees by a third. Similarly,

"stay and play" packages greatly reduce green fees. Spring is a perfect time to dust off the clubs and play a popular course for a reduced price, too. The same is true in autumn, when oaks turn red, aspens brighten to yellow, and tamaracks morph to a smoky gold.

2. Quality

Discerning golfers have plenty of options. Eagle Creek Golf Club and the Little Crow Country Club are challenging and beautiful courses in the Willmar-Spicer Lakes area. Just five minutes from downtown St. Cloud, the Territory Golf Club is an affordable championship course. It starts with links-style grasslands, then shifts to an "up north" wooded design. The lakes-rich Alexandria area features the Atikwa championship course at Arrowwood Resort.

Golden Eagle Golf Course at Fifty Lakes and Minnesota National Golf Course at McGregor are both big, beautiful courses that flow through magnificent natural surroundings. Thumper Pond Golf Course at Otter Tail is also a good choice, as is the Izatys Resort course on the south end of Mille Lacs Lake, the nearby Fiddlestix Golf Course, and the championship run at Ruttger's Bay Lake Resort in Deerwood.

3. Family-Friendly Experiences

For many people, golf is a great time — a family tradition — but not a passion. Cragun's Resort in Brainerd offers a reversible par 3 course that alternates the direction of play daily. Par 3 or short golf courses can also be found at Crosslake, Pequot Lakes and Deerwood, and most cities have golf courses that can be enjoyed for about $35.

ADVENTURE GOLFERS:

72 HOURS IN NORTHEAST MINNESOTA

By Martin Kaufmann, courtesy of Golfweek

Northeast Minnesota is home to the Mesabi Iron Range. There's still active mining here, but some of the closed mines have been repurposed into rugged escapes for adrenaline-seeking golfers. Here's a sampling of things to do on a three-day visit.

DAY 1

Start your trip with a bang by playing the state's top-ranked public golf course: The Quarry at Giants Ridge in Biwabik. Carved out of a repurposed mine, its demanding layout punishes errant shots. Better players will appreciate the risk-reward options on terrific par 5s, and everyone will enjoy the lovely vistas from elevated tees.

Anyone interested in a 36-hole day can opt for The Legend course after lunch. It is far more forgiving than The Quarry, but no slacker; Golfweek ranks it No. 10 in the state.

If you'd prefer a different form of exercise, consider spending the afternoon hiking on nearby trails or mountain biking downhill with the help of seasonal chairlifts. Others might prefer hopping on the Mesabi Trail, a 135-mile paved bike path that cuts through the resort and stretches from Grand Rapids to Aurora.

DAY 2

There are several ways to learn why it's called the Iron Range. Catch a vintage trolley at the Minnesota Discovery Center in Chisholm to explore a ghost town and play miniature golf on a mining-themed course. In Hibbing, you can get a sense of modern-day mining's scale at the Hull Rust Mahoning Mine View, the world's largest open iron ore mine.

Head north to Lake Vermilion-Soudan Underground Mine State Park to venture a half-mile underground and board a car to the deepest part of the mine. Visitors can tour a lab where U of M researchers studied dark matter even though it's no longer operational. The mine's temperature hovers around 51 degrees so be sure to dress accordingly. The park also has a campground if you prefer roughing it over a resort.

It's a short drive from Soudan to Fortune Bay Resort for an afternoon round on The Wilderness. Designed by Jeff Brauer on the banks of Lake Vermilion, it's routed through soaring pines and peppered with rock outcroppings. The split fairway on the first hole is an early reflection of Brauer's creativity. The long third hole — a par 3 played across a lake to a two-tiered green — is one of Minnesota's most photographed holes. The short seventh plummets to a green fronted by bunkers and offers spectacular views from the tee. Keep your camera handy for eagle sightings and other wildlife along Lake Vermilion.

DAY 3

Rise early for the two-hour drive east to Superior National at Lutsen, nestled along the banks of Lake Superior. Before an afternoon of golf, consider pulling off Highway 61 for a short hike at Tettegouche State Park, where you can enjoy cliffside views of the lake and Cascade Falls.

Superior National completed a $4.6 million makeover in 2018, with Brauer stretching the course to 6,763 yards and softening the pitched fairways and greens to make them more playable. He reasoned that if you're coming to Lutsen, you're there to enjoy the stunning views of Lake Superior and the raging Poplar River. The topography of the Sawtooth Mountains cascading down to the lake is right in line with his decorated Iron Range designs.

5 UNIQUE GOLF HOLES IN MINNESOTA

Minnesota has hundreds of golf courses and dynamic hole designs. Here are five of the most memorable ones you'll find while swinging your way across the state.

ALEXANDRIA GOLF CLUB

Expect three greens in the shape of states: Minnesota on the seventh hole, Oklahoma on the eighth, and Texas on the 17th. Minnesota also makes a cameo on the ninth hole of Warroad Estates.

PINE BEACH EAST AT MADDEN'S

Gull Lake in Brainerd has a par 6 hole — a rare sighting not only here, but across the entire country.

HIGHLAND NATIONAL GOLF COURSE

The 15th hole sports a Snoopy bunker, a tribute to St. Paul native Charles M. Schulz.

BAKER NATIONAL GOLF COURSE

This Medina mainstay is part of the Three Rivers Park District and puts a lovely red barn in play on its first hole. StoneRidge Golf Club in Stillwater also has a barn that you have to hit around, over or through.

THE LEGEND AT GIANTS RIDGE

Be careful not to hit — or fall into — the “giant’s footprint” on the Legend’s third fairway. Similar in spirit: the signature paw on the seventh hole of Black Bear Golf Course in Carlton.

HOUSTON WHITE

BREAKS DOWN HIS FAVORITE GOLF COURSES

By Andrew Parks

As if he wasn't busy enough running The Get Down Coffee Co. and launching clothing lines with the likes of Target and the menswear shop MartinPatrick3, Houston White is also behind the annual Be the Change Golf Tournament at Theodore Wirth Golf Club. The benefit is one of White's many efforts to broaden the game's reach to underserved communities and exemplify Black excellence through fashion, sports and culture.

Now in his mid-40s, White has played golf for more than two decades. With that in mind, we asked the North Minneapolis native about five of his favorite courses in the metro area.

LEGENDS CLUB, PRIOR LAKE

The folks that work here have always treated me well. They're very hospitable, very cool people. It also has the country club feel of being secluded, which means a lot to me, because it's the place I go to just get away.

That's something I tell every single entrepreneur: 'You have to have a release valve.' Golf is a superpower for aspiring young professionals — both a respite and a way to connect with other people.

One thing about this one, though: It's not a course where I would bring somebody who is just starting to play golf. This is for when you progress a little bit.

STONERIDGE GOLF CLUB, STILLWATER

I love this place. It's a links-style course, like what you'd see in Scotland when golf started — no trees, and a big flat area. Links golf is all about placing the ball, but you don't have the trouble of a traditional golf course, which is you hit it in a tree. It's more forgiving in terms of space, but more difficult in terms of navigating everything.

There's just something about the open air here that feels different to me. It's a beautiful, challenging course. I really enjoy it.

KELLER GOLF COURSE, MAPLEWOOD

This is more of a traditional course, where the fairway is wide and there's trees lining the fairway. It's a short course, but it has a ton of history. They used to play the St. Paul Open there with Arnie Palmer and Jack Nicklaus. It just has this mystique, man. It's beautiful. It's well-maintained. It's old-school. It's regal. And it has the essence of 'this is golf.'

LOGGERS TRAIL GOLF COURSE, STILLWATER

I remember when this course first opened. I used to play it every week, but I haven't been there in years. It's links on the front, and then it turns into a more traditional course on the back. It's the best of both worlds. It can take a long time to finish, but it's beautiful, man.

PRESTWICK GOLF CLUB, WOODBURY

Here's the thing about Minnesota: I could go on and on and on about the great courses here, from the Chaska Town Course and Francis A. Gross to Hidden Greens in Hastings. Hastings should have its own golf loop, actually; there's so many little, amazing courses there.

Prestwick, over in Woodbury, reminds me of your favorite dive Irish bar — if it was a golf course. It just has this vibe to it, where it's not pretentious. It's dope. It's chill. It's like, 'We do what we do, and we do it well. We're not trying to be anything else.' That type of thing.
